Professional Profile

Ashis Goel is an Associate Partner at KNM & Partners, Law Offices, with over 11 years of experience in corporate and commercial laws. A graduate of University College London (LL.M., 2013), Ashis advises clients across diverse sectors including automotive, IT/ITES, real estate, cement, stationery, and consumer products.

His practice focuses on corporate transactions, equity funding, joint ventures, M&A, and general commercial contracts. Ashis has significant experience in advising on and drafting a wide range of agreements, including share purchase agreements, shareholders' agreements, joint venture agreements, service and supply contracts, lease deeds, employment agreements, and NDAs.

Ashis has advised several marquee Japanese, European, and Indian clients on their India entry, cross-border collaborations, and transactional mandates. His transactional expertise extends to assisting promoters, investors, and multinational corporations on exits, strategic investments, and corporate restructuring transactions.

He is widely regarded for his practical approach to deal structuring, risk allocation, and hands-on execution across complex investment and commercial documentation.
