Professional Profile

Deeptanshu Jain is a Principal Associate at KNM & Partners, with over 10 years of focused experience in real estate advisory, dispute resolution, and regulatory compliance. His practice centres around advising developer companies, institutional investors, and high-net-worth clients in navigating complex real estate transactions, litigation, and regulatory frameworks across India.

Deeptanshu has a deep understanding of land laws, development regulations, and state-specific legislations governing real estate development, including the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016 (RERA). His expertise lies in conducting title and legal due diligence of large-scale land acquisitions, advising on state-specific zoning and development permissions, and managing litigation portfolios involving real estate disputes, including arbitrations and consumer forums.

He has successfully represented clients in high-value developer disputes before the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India, High Courts, National Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission (NCDRC), Real Estate Appellate Tribunals, and Arbitration Tribunals. Deeptanshu is also regularly engaged in matters before the Competition Commission of India (CCI) on anti-competitive practices in the real estate sector.

His practice is trusted by leading real estate developers, infrastructure companies, and investors, where he assists in dispute resolution strategy, litigation management, and regulatory compliance under RERA and other sectoral laws. He has also led several land due diligence assignments, including for marquee acquisitions like the M3M Group's acquisition of township land in Panipat.

Deeptanshu is valued for his pragmatic legal advisory, hands-on approach in dispute management, and comprehensive understanding of real estate regulatory nuances across multiple states in India.

Key Experience
